

Steve Yeh

Ph.D. Candidate @ Columbia University
Department of Economics
New York City, NY

Phone: (631) 992-0841
Email: sy3012@columbia.edu

Education

Ph.D. in Economics, Columbia University, 2021-Present.

M.Phil & M.A. in Economics (en route).

B.A. in Economics and Mathematics (Concentration in Pure Math), Cornell University, 2017-2021.

Summa Cum Laude in Economics and Magna Cum Laude in Mathematics, Distinction in All Subjects.

Thesis (Economics) : "Costly Monitoring and Moore Machines in the Repeated Prisoner's Dilemma"

Minors: Computer Science and Law & Society

Working Papers

Optimal Task Assignments for Projects. [\[SSRN\]](#)

Works-in-Progress

Plausible Pairwise Stability.

Teaching

Teaching Assistant for Microeconomic Analysis I (MA Course), Microeconomic Analysis II (MA Course), Microeconomics (MPA Course), Principles of Economics, Intermediate Microeconomics.

Instructor for SIPA Summer Math Camp.

Awards

Dean's Fellowship, Columbia University, 2021- Present.

Wueller Fellowship for Best Teaching Fellow Runner-Up, Columbia University, 2024.

Harriss Award for Best 2nd-Year Paper Runner-Up, Columbia University, 2023.

Uri M. Possen Memorial Award for Best Undergraduate Honors Thesis, Cornell University, 2021.

New York State Scholarship for Academic Excellence, Cornell University, 2017- 2021.

Research Interests

Networks, Microeconomic Theory.